

Annual Meeting of the Acadian Entomological Society
2-4 August 2009
Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, Memorial University
Corner Brook, Newfoundland

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Acadian Entomological Society we are pleased to invite you to join us at our 2009 annual Meeting.

The overarching theme of this year's event is: A "Long Range" view of Entomology. Our plans include a collecting trip on Sunday afternoon, with formal registration occurring that evening. A special information session/workshop for students looking at finding employment in the field of entomology is being prepared. Also at the preparation stage, is the setting up of a public relations session to share our entomological expertise with the local population. And as always, contributed papers and a competition for best student talks and posters will be an important feature of this year's meeting.

Venue: Sir Wilfred Grenfell campus of Memorial University in Corner Brook, NL

We will be nestled among the Long Range Mountains and for those members that enjoy camping, hiking, and sightseeing, this place is a wonderful starting point to explore the west coast of the Island of Newfoundland.

Room reservations:

Corner Brook offers many types of accommodation. However, we have reserved both residence rooms that can accommodate 2 delegates ($22 per person per night plus taxes), as well as, chalet apartments that can house 4 delegates ($32.50 per person per night plus taxes). Take a look here:
